BT166 Grey Superlon AA
1g DBS0107 (X)
1 x HC026 Crystal Donut

This necklace is a great way to introduce yourself to the delicate effect of size 15 Delicas. These tiny beads are made into a simple strap to support the crystal donut and keep the proportions small and soft to complement the curve of the crystal.

For an even more delicate effect change the cotton thong strap for a simple chain or length of silky ribbon.

To Make

Prepare the needle with 1.5m of single thread. Tie a keeper bead 10cm from the end and thread on 4X.

Using these four beads as the first row work a strip of beading in single peyote stitch 2.5cm long.

Cut the thonging into four equal lengths. Hold the four threads parallel to one another and adjacent to the edge of the donut.

Wrap the prepared peyote strip around the donut and the thong lengths - the strap will be a little short but you should be able to estimate how many more rows you need to make. Make the required number of further rows so the strap is long enough to make the connection without distorting. Bring the first row of peyote stitch round to interlock with the last row worked. 'Work the needle up and down through the beads of these two rows to zip-up' the seam as fig 1. Turn the needle and bring it back across the seam to make it firm. Finish off this end of the thread neatly and securely. Remove the keeper bead and secure in a similar fashion.

Level up the ends of the thonging. Check the necklace for length and attach the lace ends - refer to the Techniques download Threading With Thong if you need more information about using lace ends. Connect the clasp onto the loops with the jump rings.
